The skies were Carolina blue, the weather was warm (OK — hot) and the fish were biting, making Saturday an all-around good day to spend at Lake James, as nearly 50 children from Southmountain Children's Home discovered.

For the third year, members of the Mimosa Landing and Fishing Club handed rods and reels to the kids from the children's home, put them in boats, let them fish and then fed them hot dogs, hamburgers and watermelons.
