Description of Site Authorized by the General Assembly in 2003, the Haw River State Park is in the early stages of development for future public use. The first major acquisition for the state park was the Summit Center, a Retreat and Conference Center originally owned by the Episcopal Diocese. Located near the headwaters of the Haw River, The Haw River State Park and Summit Environmental Education Center is situated on nearly 1,300 acres of piedmont forest, fields, wetlands, and uplands. As land acquisition continues and Haw River State Park grows and develops the park will be able to provide additional resource protection of the Haw River Corridor and recreational opportunities for park visitors. The Haw River Corridor is also a proposed route for the Mountains to Sea Trail.

Site Activities: Nature Study

Educational Services: Extensive offerings of single day and multi-day environmental education programs on a variety of topics

Outreach Efforts: Annual GrandCamp, classroom panel at UNC-G.
